

SPLITTING DATA

In this activity, the dependent and independent variables are to be identified. The first column (Result) in the cleaned dataset is the dependent variable which is dependent on the remaining different factors. The independent columns are considered as x and the dependent column as y.

